WE CAN HELP REDUCE & PREVENT SLIP AND FALL ACCIDENTS

Have you heard of the Westray Bill (Bill C-45)?

It is a federal law, established for improved workplace health and safety, and imposes serious penalties attributing criminal liability to organizations, including corporations, their representatives, and those who direct the work of others for violations that result in injuries or death.

This Bill establishes rules for attributing criminal liability to organizations, including corporations, for the acts of their representatives and also creates a legal duty for all persons directing work to take “reasonable steps” to ensure the safety of workers and the public.

Employers can limit their liability and reduce the chances of being charged under the provisions of the Criminal Code by implementing an effective workplace health and safety program.

What you will want to know:

- What your legal obligations are under occupational health and safety laws and standards.
- What hazards exist in your workplace?
- How to effectively reduce or eliminate them.
